

KEN WOODWARD (OBE)

EUROPE'S LEADING SAFETY SPEAKER

- An inspiring and memorable speaker
- An immensely powerful presentation
- A dedicated and passionate safety professional

While working for Coca-Cola, a horrifying workplace accident left his family devastated, his colleagues traumatised and Ken without 3 of his senses: his eyesight, taste and smell.

It was an accident that could so easily have been prevented.

- It never should have happened
- All the warning signs were there
- A good safety culture wasn't good enough

Now, his dedication towards creating positive safety cultures and setting new standards has improved the working lives of hundreds of thousands of people and changed the way hundreds of organisations operate.

Over the last decade he has become a globally recognised figure, instilling people with the awareness, mindset and confidence to take a proactive approach to occupational safety issues. Ken's work has made such an impact that he recently received an OBE from Prince Charles for his dedicated efforts towards safety excellence.

Ken Woodward

The Perfect Antidote To Safety Cynicism

Rather than simply talking as a victim, Ken embraces what can be learned from the accident that cost him so much.

Ken's moving and inspirational story grabs the attention of his audience, whether on film (in Hindsight - The Ken Woodward Story and Lessons From A Blind School), or as a speaker at workplaces, conferences and seminars.

Following his accident, Ken has worked with some of the world's largest organisations, at sites throughout Europe, America, Asia, The Middle East and Australia, to reduce accidents and improve the safety of their people.

In one year alone, Ken made...

- 112 flights
- 19 overseas trips
- 285 presentations

...as part of his dedication towards preventing workplace accidents.

Ken receives an OBE from HRH Prince Charles

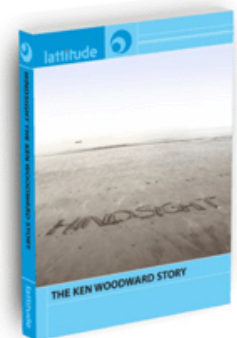

Among many others, Ken is proud to have worked with organisations such as:

 HM Government

ExxonMobil

Kodak Kellogg's

Hindsight - The Ken Woodward Story

In his presentation, Ken often uses the best-selling safety training film of his own, horrifying experience.

Hindsight - The Ken Woodward Story is used by safety focussed organisations throughout the world and has been translated into 16 languages.
